

Jewish Cemetery Expedition and Archive (JCEAA)

Selected Research Bibliography

2020

6 March 2021

This bibliography lists entries in chronological order.

Web links included in this bibliography were valid as of the date of their publication.

Vandalism at Jewish cemetery in Cleveland under investigation

Fox 8.com, 18 November 2020

<https://fox8.com/news/vandalism-at-jewish-cemetery-in-cleveland-under-investigation/>

-- Cleveland police are investigating a report of vandalism at the Lansing Avenue Cemetery. The caretaker reported graffiti in red spray paint, including a backward swastika and a star inside a circle on utility poles and a tree.

Jewish cemetery vandalized in Cleveland's Slavic Village neighborhood

19 News, 17 November 2020

Brian Koster and Sia Nyorkor

<https://www.cleveland19.com/2020/11/17/jewish-cemetery-vandalized-cleveland/>

-- Police and the security provider of the Lansing Avenue Jewish Cemetery are working to bring the responsible parties to justice. Anti-Semitic symbols and language were sprayed on utility poles, a large planter and a tree.

GRPD investigating vandalism at Jewish Cemetery

Fox 17, West Michigan, 2 November 2020

Kellen Voss

<https://www.fox17online.com/news/local-news/grand-rapids/grpd-investigating-vandalism-at-jewish-cemetery>

-- The Grand Rapids police is investigating vandalism that happened earlier today at a Jewish cemetery. The vandalism occurred at the Ahavas Achim Cemetery, located at 1801 Garfield Ave. NW, where several headstones were sprayed with red paint.

Hateful vandals or wild deer? Questions surround toppled headstones at Jewish cemetery

silive.com, 21 October 2020

Kyle Lawson

<https://www.silive.com/news/2020/10/they-will-burn-in-hell-gravestones-toppled-at-historic-jewish-cemetery-sparks-community-outrage.html>

-- It is not clear what caused the toppled headstones at the Mount Richmond Cemetery on Long Island (NY). The cemetery includes many graves of the garment workers killed in the Triangle Shirtwaist fire, as well as those who fell victim to the Spanish flu.

Russia: Jewish Cemetery St. Petersburg vandalized – Jewish community web site posts photo documentation of each damaged grave

Jewish Heritage Europe, 31 July 2020

<https://jewish-heritage-europe.eu/2020/07/31/russia-jewish-cemetery-st-petersburg/>

-- Vandals toppled or otherwise damaged several dozen headstones in the vast St. Petersburg Jewish cemetery earlier this week. Damages were found in 10 sections of the cemetery, which was opened in 1875 as part of the city's Preobrazhenskoe (Transfiguration) Cemetery and has at least 80,000 burials.

Gravestones vandalized in Europe's Oldest surviving Jewish Cemetery

The Jerusalem Post, 16 July 2020

Marcy Oster/JTA

<https://www.jpost.com/bds-threat/gravestones-vandalized-in-europes-oldest-surviving-jewish-cemetery-635257>

-- At least 50 gravestones in the medieval Jewish cemetery in the German city of Worms were smeared with a green paint. Among the vandalized gravesites was the tomb of Rabbi Meir of Rothenburg, known as the Maharam, a prominent rabbi who died in 1293.

END